

Writing Text TypeLiterary Analysis*A Plot That Surprises
By Hannah Cortez

In the short story “Louisa, Please Come Home” by Shirley Jackson, the plot has a cool twist. At the beginning, Louisa she sounds like has her life under control. “I had been planning it for a long time,” she says about running away (61). Then, in her new home, Louisa tells her landlord that she has a loveing family That sets the reader up for a shock when Louisa finally tries to go home, and her own family does not recognise her. Louisa says, “I suddenly realized that all I wanted was to stay here” (68). Instead, she must go back to her life of lies. In conclusion, that’s the plot of this story.

Revise

► Use the ratings to revise the paragraph.

Scoring Guide
needs improvement	average	good	excellent
1	2	3	4

- Does the topic sentence identify the title, author, and text type?
1 2 3 ④
- Does a controlling idea make a main point about the story element the writer will analyze?
1 2 3 ④
- Do detail sentences give sufficient evidence from the text?
1 2 3 ④
- Do direct quotations provide evidence for the analysis?
1 2 3 ④
- Do transition words and phrases introduce and connect ideas?
1 2 3 ④
- Does the concluding sentence sum up the writer’s ideas about the text?
① 2 3 4

Resource Links*SAM Keyword: Revision W3

Writing Text TypeLiterary Analysis*A Plot That Surprises
By Hannah Cortez

In the short story “Louisa, Please Come Home” by Shirley Jackson, the plot has a ~~cool~~^{shocking} twist. At the beginning, Louisa ~~she sounds like has~~^{seems to have} her life under control. “I had been planning it for a long time,” she says about running away (61). Then, in her new home, Louisa tells her landlord that she has a ~~loving~~^{loving} family. That sets the reader up for a shock when Louisa finally ~~tries~~^{attempts} to go home, and her own family does not ~~recognise~~^{recognize} her. Louisa says, “I suddenly realized that all I wanted was to stay here” (68). Instead, she must go back to her life of lies. In conclusion, ~~that’s the plot of this story.~~ the plot contains a twist ending that will surprise readers and make them think about how well they know their family members.

Revise

► Use the ratings to revise the paragraph.

Scoring Guide
needs improvement	average	good	excellent
1	2	3	4

- Does the topic sentence identify the title, author, and text type?
1 2 3 4
- Does a controlling idea make a main point about the story element the writer will analyze?
1 2 3 4
- Do detail sentences give sufficient evidence from the text?
1 2 3 4
- Do direct quotations provide evidence for the analysis?
1 2 3 4
- Do transition words and phrases introduce and connect ideas?
1 2 3 4
- Does the concluding sentence sum up the writer’s ideas about the text?
1 2 3 4

Resource Links*SAM Keyword: Revision W3