

What does the State Board of Education mean when they say 'Nothing in science shall be taught dogmatically'? Are there any exceptions to the policy of not allowing excusal from science content ?